

Voice of Thunder

HIS FAMILY IS MISSING . . .

HIS BARN LAYS IN ASHES . . .

BUSHWHACKERS ARE SLEEPING IN HIS BED . . .

THIS WAR JUST GOT A WHOLE LOT MORE PERSONAL

Fighting guerillas in your own neck of the woods comes with a high price. Neighbors, kin, and even Fin's best friend are on the wrong end of the gun barrel. And when the devil wears Gray and Blue, doing the right thing doesn't come easy. But not all battles are fought amid smoke and blood. When he comes face-to-face with a demon from his past, spirit and flesh collide – but only one will prevail.

Melinda Jane's heart has waited a lifetime for Fin, but now she's moved on to other interests – with disastrous results. Her choices have cost her his love, and maybe even her own life.

War changes a man – leaves him with a bucketful of regret. He never told her how he feels. Could she ever love the man he's become? Now, he'll never know.

1862
Western Virginia

2016 & 2017
ACFW Genesis
Finalist

Inspirational Historical Fiction

Kendy Pearson

"It is not the light that we need, but the fire; it is not the gentle shower, but the thunder. We need the storm, the whirlwind, and the earthquake."

--Frederick Douglass