

TEARS OF THE STORM

An army doctor

Running

from a legacy,
serving penance for his past.

A grieving daughter

Driven

to sacrifice her future for the sake of her family.

Amid the rising tide of secession, a farm family is caught up in the turmoil of mixed allegiances. Hatred begets tragedy, forever changing lives as war arrives at their doorstep. Will Augusta Dabney's fierce commitment to her family force a decision sure to extinguish any hope she holds for her own happiness?

Dr. James Hill joins the Union Army seeking to right a terrible wrong. When he commandeers the Dabneys' barn for a hospital, he comes face to face with his past. Will he indulge the bitterness he's nurtured for so long or seek peace in the healing words of a wizened, former slave?

When disaster strikes, Augusta and James are driven to the end of themselves. Will defeat claim their futures, or will hope rise from the ashes when none can be found?
